What's your art dream? Do you picture yourself as a painter? A sculptor? An illustrator or gallery owner? If you follow your dream to Mount Mary College, you'll embark upon an exciting journey of personal discovery as you develop your artistic potential.

At Mount Mary College you'll be exposed to many art forms, traditional as well as emerging art. You'll develop your own unique expression and style. In our supportive environment, you'll have countless opportunities to refine and sharpen your skills and express your personal, aesthetic vision.

With a firm foundation in the liberal arts, Mount Mary art students engage in a variety of visual art activities designed to strengthen art making and communication skills, encourage the imagination, and help to develop a personal sense of self-discipline.

Art Gallery

Mount Mary's Marian Gallery hosts national, regional, and local art shows throughout the year. Art and Design Division students, faculty, and graduates also have the opportunity to display their work in the Marian Gallery. This provides a wonderful learning experience for our art students on how to hang a show, prepare for an exhibit, promote a show, and host an artist reception.

Student Involvement

For students with an interest in art, the ARTS Organization affords them the opportunity to promote art interest among students, to recognize and promote scholarship and potential professional art abilities, and to foster friendships. Students have participated in field trips, pumpkin carving activities, face painting, and even taught in the well-known Art For Youth summer program held at the college.

Faculty

Our art professors are active, professional, exhibiting artists who have shown work in regional, national, and international juried and invitational shows. Many have worked with architects, designers and have commission work for a wide variety of private clients.
