SOCIAL WORK

SCHOOL OF NATURAL & HEALTH SCIENCES AND EDUCATION

Mount Mary offers an outstanding undergraduate program to prepare students for successful and fulfilling careers in social work and other helping professions.

Social workers assist people by helping them cope with issues in their everyday lives, deal with their relationships and solve personal and family problems. Some social workers help clients who face a disability or a life-threatening disease, or a social problem, such as inadequate housing, unemployment or substance abuse.

People in this profession also assist families that have serious domestic conflicts, sometimes involving child or partner abuse. Some social workers conduct research, advocate for improved services, engage in systems design or are involved in planning or policy development. Many social workers specialize in serving a particular population or working in a specific setting.

Fieldwork

Students complete 450 hours of fieldwork before graduation. Students complete three semesters of field placement within two different agencies. These placements provide students with a greater understanding of social work as a profession and give them opportunities to achieve professional practice and competence, and to develop rich professional networks.

Accreditation

Holding a long tradition of excellence, Mount Mary was the first private University in Wisconsin to have a social work baccalaureate program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. Mount Mary's program has been accredited since 1974.

Students who wish to take the licensure exam in Wisconsin must graduate from an accredited program. In addition, some employers may be required to hire graduates from accredited colleges and universities. Because Mount Mary's program is accredited, graduates are immediately eligible to take licensure exams necessary for employment in the field.

Certification/Licensure

Social workers may be certified or licensed. Students who graduate with a social work degree from Mount Mary are eligible to take the State of Wisconsin BSW level certification exam for entry-level professional practice. In order for one to use the title "social worker," he or she must be licensed or certified by the Wisconsin Department of Regulation and Licensing.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The demand for social workers with a bachelor's degree has never been greater and is still growing. In fact, some social service agencies are finding it necessary to recruit social workers from outside the area because they cannot meet their social work staffing needs. Social workers work in mental health clinics, schools, hospitals and private practices. Examples of employment opportunities for social workers include:

- American Red Cross
- Child protective services
- Community services for older adults
- Criminal justice system
- Family and children's services
- Health care programs
- Homeless and domestic violence centers
- Hospice programs
- Mental health and community support programs
- Substance abuse programs

SOCIAL WORK CLUB

The Social Work Club is an active student organization on campus. The club regularly holds food drives, clothing drives, bake sales and community service events to benefit community organizations.

PHI ALPHA HONOR SOCIETY

Eligibility for initiation includes a minimum of junior status, a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher and major GPA of 3.25 or higher, completion of at least nine credits in required social work courses, demonstration of leadership ability and dedication to social work practice.
